

Fracture Point – Privacy Policy (Draft Placeholder)

Effective Date: Pending public release

Last Updated:

Fracture Point is currently under development and does not actively collect, store, or share user data at this stage.

We are committed to player privacy and transparency. Upon public release of Fracture Point, our full Privacy Policy will outline:

- What information is collected (e.g., wallet addresses, gameplay data, preferences)
- How it is used (e.g., gameplay analytics, security, user experience)
- What third parties (if any) have access to your data
- Your rights to access, update, or remove your data

No user data is being tracked, shared, or sold at this time.

⚠ This Privacy Policy is a draft placeholder and does not reflect final terms. A full version will be published before any public release, wallet integration, or online gameplay begins.
