

Fracture Point – Terms of Service (Draft Placeholder)

Effective Date: Pending public release

Last Updated:

Fracture Point is an early-stage project in development by GameHouse Labs. These Terms of Service are in draft form and will be updated prior to launch.

Planned services include:

- Online multiplayer gameplay
- NFT-based avatars, cosmetics, and marketplace trading
- Peer-to-peer economy powered by EVM-compatible wallets
- A future token system (GHC), not yet launched

By participating in early tests, viewing concept materials, or engaging with community discussions, you acknowledge that:

- All features, tokens, and rewards are experimental and subject to change.
- No guarantees of asset value, token utility, or gameplay access are made.
- You are not entitled to any financial return, token allocation, or in-game assets unless otherwise stated in future updates.

 This is a placeholder ToS and does not constitute a binding agreement. Final terms will be published before public launch, and your continued participation will require acceptance of those terms.